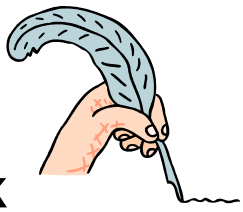
12 CP Summer Work



Each student entering 12 CP next year is required to complete the following summer work. All work is due the first day you attend the class, regardless of what semester you have it. The work you do in the summer will be referenced throughout the semester and should be taken seriously. Not completing the work will critically injure your grade.

Choose one British novel written on a 12th grade level or higher. For example, Wuthering Heights and Frankenstein are acceptable, but Harry Potter is not. We will be reading Lord of the Flies in class; therefore, that book is not an option for summer work.

After reading the text of your choice, complete the attached handout. Be prepared to present your novel to the class on the first day of school. You will need one visual aid of some sort (theme poster, mobile, costume, etc) and a handout for the class that reinforces the main points of your presentation (have enough for 30 students). Your presentation will be graded on content, creativity, eye contact, clarity, and thoroughness.

Best of luck with your summer assignment. If you have any questions, concerns, or difficulties selecting a book, see Miss Householder or Mr. Snyder. See you next year.
